DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. The original restriction by species on 3/4/05 is withdrawn.
2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species A – Figures 1-5, 13, 19b, 21-24, and 28a-29b

Species B – Figure 9

Species C – Figure 16

Species E – Figures 18, 19a, 20, 25, and 27

The species are independent or distinct because species A-E are directed to related aviatorial valves. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect: (2) the species do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive and (3) the species as claimed are not obvious variants, see MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the species as claimed are not capable of use together and are mutually different in design. Furthermore, the species as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 62, and 71 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Because these species are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner of restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 809.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct subspecies that applicant must further elect in addition to the species above:

SubSpecies AA – Figures 6 and 10-12

SubSpecies AB – Figure 7

SubSpecies AC – Figure 8

SubSpecies AE – Figures 15

The species are independent or distinct because species AA-AE are directed to related construction of the selective interrupter. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect: (2) the species do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive and (3) the species as claimed are not obvious variants, see MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the species as claimed are not capable of use together and are mutually different in design. Furthermore, the species as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 62, and 71 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Because these species are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner of restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 809.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct subspecies that applicant must further elect in addition to the species and subspecies above:

SubSpecies BA – Figure 26a

SubSpecies BB – Figure 26b

SubSpecies BC – Figure 26c

The species are independent or distinct because species BA-BC are directed to related actuation methods of the valve. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect: (2) the species do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive and (3) the species as claimed are not obvious variants, see MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the species as claimed are not capable of use together and are mutually different in design. Furthermore, the species as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 62, and 71 are generic.

Art Unit: 3753

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Because these species are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner of restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 809.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with, or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 3753

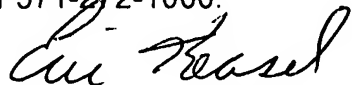

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Craig M. Schneider whose telephone number is (571) 272-3607. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30 -5:00.
